

問題 [I]

- 1) It has been played about four million times.
- 2) He was staying in a small attic room of his mother's house on Wimpole Street.
- 3) He had the suspicion that he had not written the melody.
- 4) He first called it 'Scrambled Eggs'.
- 5) They suggested he record it as a solo.
- 6) "It" means something that just happened in a dream.
- 7) The sense of hearing is.
- 8) They have the function of solving problems.
- 9) The music flew away and he could not recall any part of it.
- 10) They both heard music while dreaming and then wrote it down.

問題 [II]

- 1) アメリカ大陸は南北に，ユーラシア大陸は東西に広がっている。
- 2) 南北に長いアメリカ大陸は，緯度により気候が大いに違うから。
- 3) 強力な軍隊，様々な新しい技術
- 4) ・減量には小さな皿を買う。
・無駄な時間を減らすのに，ソーシャルメディアをブロックするソフトウェアを用いる。

*上記のうち，いずれか1つを解答する。

- 5) 仕事帰りの途中にある。
- 6) 無駄な動きをなくすのに，作業を行う場所の配置を考え直す。
- 7) 見えにくい場所に置く。
- 8) ・職を失うと景気のせいにする。
・試合で負けると審判のせいにする。
・仕事に遅れると交通渋滞のせいにする。

*上記のうち，いずれか1つを解答する。

- 9) しばしば意思力の欠如と思われるものが，実は悪い環境の結果なのだ。

- 10) (ア) no (イ) rest

問題 [Ⅲ]

In my opinion, skills are more important. To be sure, luck also matters in almost everything. However skilled you are in a certain field, such as sports or games, you sometimes suffer a crushing defeat or failure because of bad luck. As a junior high school student, I was defeated in a judo match by an opponent I had always beaten, because my feet slipped on sweat. Of course, I have never been defeated by him since then. In short, if you have acquired solid skills, you are more likely to win or succeed in nearly anything, although you may unluckily lose or fail on a temporary basis. Moreover, a Japanese proverb goes: Un mo jitsuryoku no uchi, which means that whether you are lucky or not depends on your real ability. I am sure that you can make Fortune smile on you by making every effort to develop strong skills. (151 words)