4. 学生自身が自分で課題の提出期限を決められるが、それをきちんと守って提出できるのか、ということ。

5. 成績順位：2位

原因：このクラスの大多数の学生は、計画的に課題を提出し、好成績を収めたが、それができなかった少数の学生がクラス全体の平均の成績を下げたから。

問 3

- ① I wonder if architects have finally gone mad, at the end of the twentieth century.
- ② All of a sudden, a new style emerges, in a form and appearance that has never come to our mind.
- ③ It is so difficult to make sense of this confusion that it would be no surprising if some of us eventually start thinking that way.

問 4

I'd like to major in economics because it is economy that forms the very foundation of society. In other words, it is economic activities that move our society forward. But I've felt something is wrong with this driving force. In Japan, everything seems to stay put, and I've wondered why. This simple question has motivated me to clear it up. To analyze how goods and services are produced, distributed and used, what is required most is the ability to deal with data. Fortunately, I've always been excellent at math, and teachers have suggested that I make the most of it. I'm particularly interested in how local economy works, and I have long thought the Seto Inland Sea and its surrounding areas have huge tourism potentials. To me, Okayama is ideally located to closely examine those abundant, untapped tourist resources.
